00:37:01 Denise L Norris: Impressive and hilarious

00:41:39 Maria Wright: “Research confirms that both Republican and Democratic women are more likely than their male counterparts to initiate and fight for bills that champion social justice, protect the environment, advocate for families, and promote nonviolent conflict resolution.” -Dee Dee Myers, one of my favorite quotes!

00:43:04 Maria Wright: Such a great point by Dee Dee Myers, we need to acknowledge and celebrate our victories!

00:44:01 Earl Parsons: “Speak up. Stand up. Don’t be afraid to stand out.”

00:45:53 Daisy Gonzales: If you have a question, please type them here. We will transition to a 5 min. Q&A session.

00:46:25 Dr. Dianne Van Hook: And, Dee Dee Myers helped me get tents delivered to COC over night so we could reopen after the Northridge Earthquake. Her father, Steve was on our COC Foundation Board. When FEMA was not able to help directly and quickly, Steve called Dee Dee on a Saturday night, in Washington. she worked through the paperwork.

00:47:35 Dr. Dianne Van Hook: I received a call that night. Tents came on Sunday morning. our January 1994 students, thank you!

00:50:00 Julia Dozier: (Without naming names) did being a female as part of any the campaigns that you served on pose a significant barrier? Did it give you any notable benefits?

00:50:00 Denise L Norris: Question: Your background is diverse in making a difference, Thinking about your varied background, what do you feel has provided you the greatest sense of accomplishment personally?

00:50:04 Marbella Avalos (Tech Support):Moving forward, to support these efforts check out the CCCWC website at <https://www.cccwomenscaucus.org/> AND engage on social media at <https://twitter.com/CCCWomensCaucus>
